Entry of Amendment

Applicant's amendment filed on Apr. 27, 2007 is acknowledged. Claims 1-4 and 8-24 have been canceled and claim 25 added by the applicant, thus claims 5-7 and 25 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stern et al. (7,022,121). Stern et al. disclose a device comprising:

radiofrequency energy source for providing localized energy for non-invasive hyperthermia treatment;

an applicator connected to the radiofrequency energy source comprising a ground probe and a temperature sensor connected to a high voltage probe for continuously measuring the difference between a target temperature and a temperature of a lesion; and a processor for controlling output of the radiofrequency energy source to maintain a target temperature that continuously measures the difference between a target temperature and a temperature of the lesion and determines when the target temperature has been provided, continuously evaluates one or more criteria pertaining to a thermal dose being delivered (power time temperature profile and duty cycle), and terminates a treatment when evaluation of one or more of the criteria indicates treatment of the lesion (col. 4, line 60-col. 5, line 13, col. 7, line 62-col. 8, line 53 and col. 9, line 41-col. 10, line 8).

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tu et al. (6,104,952). Yu et al. disclose the method essentially as claimed (see col. 2, lines 17-24, col. 4, line 66-col. 5, line 50 and col. 7, line 43-col. 8, line 9).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
